JUTE BAGS

SUBSTITUTE FOR PLASTIC

ECO PRODUCT

ABOUT JUTE BAGS INDUSTRY

- India is the second-largest producer of jute after Bangladesh and the largest manufacturer of jute products including the bags all over the world
- To start jute bag making business, you need not to arrange a huge amount of capital investment.
- The manufacturing of jute is completely dependent on nature and monsoon is the best time for the production. So the prices and availability of the raw material is fully dependent on the climate condition.

RAW MATERIALS

Laminated and non-laminated jute fabrics

Jute Yarn can be used to weave, knit Bags too

Easily available

MANUFACTURING

Both laminated and non-laminated jute fabrics are procured from the market and as per drawing, design and size cutting is done to make bags. After cutting, the clothes are placed on the table and printing is done. Then cut pieces are stitched in the sewing machine. During the process of making the bags, lining, buckles, chains, runner, handles of clothes, bamboo and canes are fitted. After completion of total works the bags are packed and dispatched to market for sale.

APPLICATIONS

Shoppers bags made of jute attractively printed are widely used for carrying articles. They are durable and biologically disposable. They can carry heavy articles. The demand for shopping jute bags is increasing due to necessity of restricting the usage of plastics.

JUTE PACKAGING ACT - 1987

This Act stipulated compulsory use of jute bags for package of food-grains, sugar, fertilisers and cement for a specified proportion of their dispatches. This was a protection offered by the government to the crisisridden industry to overcome a part of their marketing problems on account of the threat posed by the more economic options made available by the petrochemicals sector.

MARKET

The jute bag making process is simple. Additionally, there are several different types of bags that are very popular in the market. Also, the business demands very small startup capital investment.

Any individual can start this business even from home.

Furthermore, this is a great opportunity for the women, housewives, and moms too.

There is a high demand for jute products in India and in international market too.

Jute rugs have a regular demand for packing several items like rice, sugar, vegetables, cement, sands and much more.
